Mayor tests positive for COVID-19

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

Madison Mayor Bob Courtney, who has been in quarantine since Tuesday, Nov. 10, has tested positive for COVID-19, and will now not return to his office until after the Thanksgiving holiday.

Mayor Bob Courtney

Courtney has been self-isolating at home while caring for his wife, Tammy Courtney, an Intensive Care Unit nurse, who tested positive for the coronavirus recently. During that time, Courtney has taken four COVID-19 diagnostic tests but did not learn until late on Wednesday, Nov.18, that he is positive.

"Tammy and I are doing well and are experiencing minimal symptoms," the Mayor said in a statement issued by the city. "Since learning of Tammy's positive, we have followed all protocols while continuing to work from home. Fortunately, Tammy is cleared to return to work on Monday, and I will return to the office right after the Thanksgiving holiday. We are very grateful for all of the kindness and support we have received during this time. I have been getting tested weekly and encourage the entire community to do the same whether you are showing symptoms or not."

Courtney noted that there area multiple COVID-19 diagnostic test locations and information facilities in Jefferson County including:

- City of Madison Senior Citizen Center, 208 W. Main Street, Madison. Preregistration online at https://lhi.care/covidtesting or call 888-634-1116.
- King's Daughters' Hospital Convenient Care, 443 E. Clifty Drive, Madison. Preregistration online at https://scheduling.coronavirus.in.gov/ or call 812-273-5372.
- King's Daughters' Hospital Isolation Clinic, 1373 E. State Road 62, Madison. Call 812-801-8010 with questions.

Governors caution against big Thanksgiving gatherings

BY COLLIN OVERTON

Thanksgiving is traditionally is one of the biggest family holidays of the year, bringing together family and friends from far and wide. But that may not be a good thing this year and Governors Eric Holcomb and Andy Beshear are asking Hoosiers and Kentuckians to stay home amid surging COVID-19 infections in recent weeks.

The Indiana State Department of Health announced on Monday 5,006 new cases statewide and 27 coronavirus-related deaths. Indiana has now surpassed 300,000 cases and 5,000 deaths since the onset of the pandemic in March, and daily reported cases have roughly doubled on average since Halloween, according to ISDH data.

In an opinion piece published by the Washington Post last Wednesday, Holcomb joined Ohio Gov. Mike DeWine and five other governors pleading with citizens of their states to reconsider plans to spend Thanksgiving with family or friends outside their households.

"We must make short-term sacrifices for our long-term health," the commentary read. "None of us wants the guilt of gathering and unwittingly spreading this virus to someone we love. As you consider your options for next week, we urge you to make the hard choices because they will ultimately be the right choices."

State Health Commissioner Kristina Box also recommended that Hoosiers only celebrate with immediate family, adding that family members should wear a mask around each other indoors — especially if they have college students returning home.

"There will be more than 5,000 empty seats at Indiana Thanksgiving tables this

Holiday closings push paper delivery

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

Thursday's print edition of The Madison Courier will arrive a day early this week due to the Thanksgiving holiday.

US Post Offices are closed Thursday for the holiday so Thursday's newspaper will be printed Tuesday evening for delivery on Wednesday. The newspaper will return to its normal schedule with the Saturday, Nov. 28 edition.

In addition to Post Office hours and mail delivery, several local governmental offices will be closed Thursday and even others will be closed Thursday and Friday.

All Jefferson County offices will be closed all day on Thursday and Friday and the Southeastern Indiana Recycling District's Jefferson County location will be closed both days as well.

Madison City Hall will be closed all day Thursday and Friday and the Madison Transfer Station will be closed all day Thursday and close early, at 11:30 a.m., on Friday with trash, recycling and compost delayed by one day. The transfer station will reopen Saturday from 8 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and Madison City Hall and the Transfer Station will both reopen for regular business hours Monday.

Madison reverts to Zoom meetings

All nonessential meetings suspended in response to COVID-19 directives

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

In compliance with Governor Holcomb's recent directives, the City of Madison has once again suspended all nonessential meetings and public meetings deemed necessary for the continued operation of government or to address critical or essential matters will be conducted electronically via Zoom.

"We have seen a rise in COVID-19 cases across the community and the state. Jefferson County currently resides in the orange category per the Indiana State Department of Health's criteria and must 'Get Back to Blue,' " said Mayor Bob Courtney. "To discourage gatherings, we believe it is best to move meetings deemed necessary to an electronic platform," said Mayor Bob Courtney.

Although the schedule is subject to change as needed, the public meetings that will continue to meet include: City Council, Board of Public Works, Plan Commission, Board of Zoning Appeals, Historic District Board of Review, Redevelopment Commission, PACE Grant Committee and Parks Board

While the public will not be able to attend city meeting in person, public input is still welcome. All board material will be posted on the city's website at least 48 hours prior to the meeting and those wishing to participate are urged to either submit comments by email or letter to the appropriate board or request a Zoom log-in for the appropriate meeting.

For deadlines and board-specific email addresses, visit http://madison-in.gov/432/Public-Meeting-Format and to request Zoom log-in information call 812-265-8300 or visit http://madison-in.gov/432/Public-Meeting-Format.

In addition, any member of the public wishing to listen or watch city meetings may do so through the city's Facebook page.

City Hall will remain open to the public, but those with business requiring an in-person visit are encouraged to call ahead to schedule an appointment and to use the water department drive-through window as often as possible. When conducting business inside City Hall, masks are required at all times.

"The health of our community and our staff is important. We are asking for your cooperation in helping us continue to safely operate and provide essential services to the city," said Courtney.

Third major vaccine shown to be effective and cheaper

BY DANICA KIRKA AND JILL LAWLESS
ASSOCIATED PRESS

LONDON — Drugmaker AstraZeneca said Monday that late-stage trials showed its COVID-19 vaccine is highly effective, buoying the prospects of a relatively cheap, easy-to-store product that may become the vaccine of choice for the developing world.

The results are based on an interim analysis of trials in the U.K. and Brazil of a vaccine developed by Oxford University and manufactured by AstraZeneca. No hospitalizations or severe cases of COVID-19 were reported in those receiving the vaccine.

AstraZeneca is the third major drug company to report late-stage data for a potential COVID-19 vaccine as the world waits for scientific breakthroughs that will end a pandemic that has pummeled the world economy and led to 1.4 million deaths. But unlike the others, the Oxford-AstraZeneca vaccine doesn't have to be stored at ultra-cold temperatures, making it easier to distribute, especially in developing countries.

"I think these are really exciting results," Dr. Andrew Pollard, chief investigator for the trial, said at a news conference. "Because the vaccine can be stored at fridge temperatures, it can be distributed around the world using the normal immunization distribution system. And so our goal … to make sure that we have a vaccine that was accessible everywhere, I think we've actually managed to do that."

The Oxford-AstraZeneca vaccine was 90% effective in preventing COVID-19 in one of the dosing regimens tested; it was less effective in another. Earlier this month, rival drugmakers Pfizer and Moderna reported preliminary results from late-stage trials showing their vaccines were almost 95% effective.

While the AstraZeneca vaccine can be stored at 36 degrees to 46 degrees Fahrenheit the Pfizer and Moderna products must be stored at temperatures approaching minus-94 Fahrenheit.

The AstraZeneca vaccine is also cheaper.

AstraZeneca, which has pledged it won't make a profit on the vaccine during the pandemic, has reached agreements with governments and international health organizations that put its cost at about $2.50 a dose. Pfizer's vaccine costs about $20, while Moderna's is $15 to $25, based on agreements the companies have struck to supply their vaccines to the U.S. government.

All three vaccines must be approved by regulators before they can be widely distributed.

Oxford researchers and AstraZeneca stressed they weren't competing with other projects and said multiple vaccines would be needed to reach enough of the world's population to end the pandemic.

"We need to be able to make a lot of vaccine for the world quickly, and it's best if we can do it with different technologies so that if one technology runs into a roadblock, then we've got alternatives, we've got diversity," professor Sarah Gilbert, a leader of the Oxford team, told The Associated Press. "Diversity is going to be good here, but also in terms of manufacturing, we don't want to run out of raw materials."

AstraZeneca said it will immediately apply for early approval of the vaccine where possible, and it will seek an emergency use listing from the World Health Organization, so it can make the vaccine available in low-income countries.

The AstraZeneca trial looked at two different dosing regimens. A half-dose of the vaccine followed by a full dose at least one month later was 90% effective. Another approach, giving patients two full doses one month apart, was 62% effective.

Burrow: 'See ya next year'

Bengals QB tweets following scary knee injury

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Joe Burrow was looking forward to 2021 even as his rookie season was apparently ended by a scary knee injury.

"Thanks for all the love. Can't get rid of me that easy. See ya next year," the Cincinnati Bengals franchise quarterback tweeted after he was carted off the field early in the third quarter of a 20-9 loss at Washington on Sunday.

Burrow was hit high and low by Washington linemen Montez Sweat and Jonathan Allen after throwing a pass, and the QB's left leg bent the wrong way. Burrow couldn't put any weight on it as he was helped onto a cart.

"That's an injury right there to a team leader that can take the wind out of your sails," Bengals coach Zac Taylor said. "It's not fun. He was making improvements every week, and we were getting the offense headed in a direction that we thought was exciting."

Burrow was 22 of 34 for 203 yards and a touchdown before the injury.

In a season in which the Bengals wanted to get the 2019 Heisman Trophy winner and national champion as many snaps as possible, Burrow was 264 of 404 for 2,688 yards and 13 touchdowns in 10 games.

"The players have responded to him, the coaches have responded to him, the city has responded to him and all that is equally as important," Taylor said. "He energizes this team. He's been a tremendous player, everything we'd hoped he'd be, and we'll get him back at some point. We don't know when that is."

Burrow had been sacked 32 times this season, but this injury happened after he got rid of the ball.

"Seeing that sucks, especially when you know the person," said Washington receiver Terry McLaurin, who played with Burrow at Ohio State before the QB transferred to LSU. "One thing I do know about Joe, he's a resilient guy. I'm praying for him. He's a guy that when he gets knocked down, he comes back stronger."

Another former Buckeyes teammate, Washington backup QB Dwayne Haskins, tweeted about Burrow almost immediately after the game, saying: "Love u bro. Get well soon."

Carroll dominates Gallatin in playoff opener

BY ROB LAFARY

Carroll County just barely survived Gallatin County 13-7 in a regular season district game back on Oct. 21, but with the season on the line, the Panthers were never threatened while dominating the Wildcats in all phases of the game to roll to a 46-9 win in the first round of the Class 2A UK Orthopedics/KHSAA Commonwealth Gridiron Bowl at Panther Field on Friday.

The victory marks Carroll's second victory in a first round postseason game in the last three years. It is the first career postseason victory for head coach Justin Franklin.

"We had the best week of practice that we have had all year," Franklin said. "We took a sentimental approach to this game since it will be the last one this year at our field. Gallatin is the most physical team we have played all year so we had to fight for everything we got tonight. I'm proud of our guys."

It was obvious less than five minutes into the game that Carroll had everything clicking on offense. Kyle Guenthner ran for a 47-yard touchdown and converted on a two-point conversion run a minute into the game and offensive lineman Clayton McAllister scored on a 2-yard run four minutes later. Spencer Vaught's two-point conversion gave the Panthers an early 16-0 lead but Gallatin tried to answer.

After recovering a fumble deep in Carroll territory, the Wildcats gained steam, scoring on a 68-yard touchdown run down the sideline by Mason Smith and then opened the second quarter with a 25-yard field goal by Smith to trim the deficit to 16-9.

However, the Panthers quickly regrouped to take control and never looked back. Guenthner pushed the lead back to two possessions with a 13-yard scoring run with 5:50 left in the first half. Carroll's defense then tacked on two points with a safety two minutes later to lead 26-9 at halftime.

"You could feel the game shifting," Franklin said of the first half. "I don't believe in momentum because I think momentum is a reflection of your attitude. Our attitude started to slide there but we responded."

Carroll went on to score three more times in the second half and force a running clock in the fourth quarter one the lead reached 36 points. Guenthner ran for two more touchdowns in the third quarter, including a 60-yarder, and McAllister hit the end zone for the second time with 9:55 remaining in the fourth quarter.

That run-first mentality powered Carroll as it has during the team's five-game winning streak.

Carroll County's Kyle Guenthner (7) stiff-arms Gallatin County's Mason Smith on a run during the Panthers' playoff win on Friday.

David Campbell

The Panthers rushed for 365 yards on the night with seven different players getting at least one carry in the contest. Guenthner led the way with 282 yards and four touchdowns on just 22 carries. The senior now has 1,192 yards on the ground and 19 scores this year.

"We went right down the field tonight," Franklin said of the offense. "You can't replace a kid like Kyle Guenthner. He's been that way all year. We have a couple of juniors who can get close to what he has been doing, but golly he has been unbelievable. And on top of being a good football player, he is a great kid."

Carroll rolled up 473 yards of total offense as quarterback Keishaun Mumphrey added 108 yards through the air on 8-of-10 passing. Guenthner was also his top target with three catches for 48 yards and Jacobi Brewer had four catches for 42 yards.

The Panthers limited Gallatin to just 77 yards total offense. Smith led Gallatin with 65 yards on six carries with a touchdown. However, Carroll had 10 sacks in the game and 13 tackles for a loss.

Carroll (6-4) is slated to face Walton-Verona (6-4), which beat Shawnee 41-8, in the second round this Friday in what should be a close game. The Panthers lost to the Bearcats 14-6 on Oct. 2 in Carrollton.

Cubs open season with 8 wins over 2 days

Van Skinner top grappler at BNL

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

Madison wrestling opened the 2020-21 season with eight dominating wins over two days this past weekend.

The Cubs hosted Southwestern, Switzerland County and Salem for a quad meet on Friday and swept all three matches, then picked up five more wins while rolling to the title of the Super 6 Duals at Bedford North Lawrence on Saturday.

Madison had eight wrestlers go 3-0 on Friday as the Cubs dominated Switzerland County 65-9, Southwestern 60-9 and Salem 53-18.

Despite the easy wins, Madison coach Tyson Skinner knew that his team could do better.

"We looked very sloppy but that was to be expected with the state of everything now with COVID," Skinner said. "We had several nice performances tonight with Emmett Willhite getting nice wins over tough kids from Switz and Salem. Jace Walls stepped up big and made 120 pounds tonight and looked very impressive. Dalton Berry was a level above everyone else tonight and went 3-0 in dominating fashion."

Willhite (138 pounds), Walls (120) and Berry (195) were all 3-0 as was Kelsey Bilz (106), Noah Burkhardt (126), Luke McCarty (160), Van Skinner (170) and Aiden Binzer (182). Trenton Stockdale (152), Dylan Fulton (220) and Blake Ashby (285) were all 2-1 while Brayden Richards (145) was 1-2.

Complete results were not available for both Southwestern and Switzerland County, but against Madison, Southwestern's Brandon Smith (152) and Brady McLain (220) each picked up wins while Keegan Gross (120) and Dawson Lichlyter (160) suffered losses. Meanwhile, Switzerland County got wins from Jacob Wolf (132) and Gabe Jackson (145) while Wylden Washnock (126), Austin Wolf (138) and Tyler Lieland (195) all lost.

Madison was even more dominating in scoring five dual meet wins at Bedford North Lawrence on Saturday to take home its first invitational trophy of the season. The Cubs beat host BNL 58-15, Forest Park 60-18, Silver Creek 68-0, North Harrison 63-0 and New Albany 58-6.

"Today's performance was a vast improvement over the product we displayed on Friday night," Coach Skinner said. "Noah (Burkhardt) really put the team before himself today and bumped around wherever we needed him. He looked very solid. We had several kids that really impressed me today; Willhite and Stockdale both came out on fire today. Van had three really dominating matches and the other coaches were impressed and voted him Outstanding Wrestler of the meet.

"The Madison Wrestling Family is dedicating this championship to (former head coach) Ray Black as he is in the hospital battling COVID."

Van Skinner, a sophomore, went 5-0 at 170 pounds en route to the Outstanding Wrestler honors. Ranked fourth in the semistate by IndianaMat.com, Skinner won two matches by pin and another by technical fall while getting two wins by forfeit."

Every Madison wrestler won at least four matches on the day. Burkhardt (126/132), Willhite (138), Stockdale (152), McCarty (160), Berry (195) and Ashby (285) each went 5-0 while Bilz (106/113), Walls (126/132), Richards (145), Drake Youngblood (182) and Fulton (220) each went 4-1.

Madison, now 8-0 on the season, returns to action on Tuesday, Dec. 1 when the Cubs travel to Batesville for a dual meet.

BASKETBALL ROUNDUP

Poor start dooms Cubs in loss to 3A No. 2 Salem

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

Class 3A No. 2 Salem set the stage early and never looked back, pulling away for a 65-48 win over Madison in girls basketball Saturday at Madison.

The visiting Lions, who reached the state championship game last year, rode the hot hand of Natalie Noel to a quick first-quarter lead. Noel knocked down four 3-pointers over the first eight minutes as Salem built leads of 14-2 and 19-4 and took a 23-7 lead into the second quarter.

Salem (6-0) led by as many as 23 (40-17) in the second quarter and still led 42-20 at the break. Madison won the final two quarters by a combined five points but the damage had been done.

Noel finished the game 6-of-7 from 3-point range, just part of an overall impressive shooting effort by the Lions from outside. Salem was 8-of-15 total on 3-pointers and shot 58% (28-for-48) from the floor.

Madison, meanwhile, struggled once again on the offensive end. Other than senior Jade Nutley, who had 20 points on 8-of-13 shooting, the Cubs had trouble putting the ball in the basket, connecting on just 18-of-50 (36%) for the night. Senior Daesja Jay hit four 3-pointers and scored 14 points but the rest of the team combined to score just 14 points, nine of that by Taylor Lynch.

Along with her scoring, Nutley also had 15 rebounds and seven assists in what may have been one of her best overall games as a high school player. She was also 3-for-4 from the free-throw line and 1-for-2 on 3-point attempts.

Noel scored 20 points to lead Salem while Karly Sweeney had 17 points and seven rebounds and Olivia Weber had 15 points and six rebounds.

Madison falls to 1-3 on the season with the loss. The annual Turkey Shootout matchup with Southwestern has been moved to January and the Dec. 1 matchup at home against Floyd Central has been postponed until a later date, meaning the Cubs' next scheduled game will not be until Friday, Dec. 4 when they head to Jeffersonville.

HILLTOPPERS WIN OPENER

Shawe girls basketball finally got on the floor on Saturday and picked up a 41-18 win over Bloomington Lighthouse at home in the Hilltoppers' season opener.

Shawe had its first three games of the season postponed after the team was forced to quarantine due to COVID-19 concerns.

"It was great for these ladies to start the year off with a win. We have had four practices after a 14-day layoff due to Prince of Peace schools going virtual learning, which stopped all sporting activities. So my hat is off to these ladies for coming in and playing as hard as they did," acting Shawe coach Greg Ison said. "I was worried our conditioning would not be up to par, but give them credit, they kept themselves in shape on their own. These girls played as hard as I have ever seen them play for 32 minutes. They never stopped playing and they didn't let little mistakes keep them from staying focused, which has been a problem for them in the past."

Shawe got off to a slow start and led only 5-3 after the first quarter but used a 16-4 second-quarter run to take control of the game. After a nearly even third, the Hilltoppers outscored Lighthouse 12-4 in the fourth to pull away.

Abagail Hill and Autumn Lathrem scored 12 points each to lead Shawe while Katie Jacobs added eight. Lathrem also had seven rebounds, Phoebe Grote had five points and five rebounds, and Grote, Hill and Jacobs had three steals each.

"I thought Phoebe ran our offenses quite well. She is our floor general and she took charge. Autumn rebounded as hard as ever and Abigail shot the ball well tonight. Katie had her best game of her young career and I was pleased with freshman Yolett Perez's play as well," Ison said. "Off the bench, I thought Carson Cooke played her role as well as she could. She is a very dependable substitute. I also thought freshman Cora Wieczorek came in and gave us some valuable minutes."

Hannah Rausey had nine points and Mardi Grossman seven to lead Lighthouse (1-5).

Shawe, now 1-0 on the season, has had its two games this week — against Borden on Monday and Medora on Tuesday — postponed. The Hilltoppers return to action on Monday, Nov. 30, at home against Class A No. 6 Jac-Cen-Del.

SWITZ GIRLS WIN TWO

Switzerland County girls basketball picked up a pair of wins over the weekend to improve to 4-1 on the season.

On Friday, the Pacers hammered Rising Sun 62-30 in the first game of the annual Ruler of the River series. On Saturday, Switzerland gutted out a 45-38 win in overtime at Franklin County.

Against Rising Sun, Maddie Duvall scored 19 points, Jessie Duvall added 18, Kierstan Oeffinger had 10 and Nora Hankins scored eight.

Against Franklin County, Jessie Duvall had 15 points, Maddie Duvall scored 13 and Oeffinger had 11.

Switzerland's game at North Decatur on Wednesday has been postponed. The Pacers' next game is on Dec. 1 at Milan.

CAM BOYS SPLIT A PAIR

Christian Academy of Madison boys basketball split a pair of games over the weekend.

On Friday, the Defenders defeated Micah Christian (Ky.) 63-44. On Saturday, CAM lost 50-39 to Pleasant View.

CAM, now 2-1 on the season, hosts Assumption (Ky.) on Tuesday.

New Ohio River access site opens in Brooksburg

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

Hoosiers boaters can now enjoy access to the Ohio River via the Brooksburg Public Access Site near Madison.

The site, located at 531 South Brooksburg Main Street, is the Indiana DNR Division of Fish & Wildlife's 439th public access site.

The new ramp was made possible by a $1.2 million investment of DNR funding and through a strong partnership with Jefferson County Parks, who approached Fish & Wildlife about the site in 2016. Land was donated by Jefferson County and Bill Knoblock.

An official dedication ceremony is being planned for spring.

All Fish & Wildlife public access sites are open 24 hours a day, seven days a week, at no cost to visitors.

Funding for the Public Access Program, which acquires and develops public access sites across the state, is provided by the Wildlife & Sport Fish Restoration Program (WSFR). WSFR funds are collected through excise taxes by manufacturers and importers of hunting, fishing, and shooting equipment and some boats, as well as fuel taxes. Match is provided by the State of Indiana through fishing license sales.

The Where to Fish interactive map includes information on public access sites, fish consumption advisories, and low-head dam locations in rivers and streams. It can be accessed at on.IN.gov/where2fish.

3. A Petition for Authority to Distribute Estate.
This matter shall be heard at 8:30 o'clock a.m. on December 3, 2020, or as soon thereafter as the Court may determine at the Jefferson Circuit Court, Courthouse, 300 E. Main St., Madison, Indiana 47250, or virtually by Zoom.com.
All persons entitled to share in the final distribution of this Estate are notified to file any objections they might have to the Final Account, in writing, on or before December 3, 2020, and to appear virtually by Zoom.com for the hearing if they wish to make proof of heirship or claim to any Estate assets and show cause why the Final Account and any Petitions that have been filed as above specified should not be approved.
The above date set as a deadline for filing objections (fourteen days prior to the hearing on the Final Account) is the last day any interested party may object to the Final Account. If you have no objection you need not file anything and you need not appear at the hearing on the Final Account.
DATED and signed at Madison, Indiana, on 11/12/2020.

Being responsible with tech

Dear Annie: My husband and I have two teenage children, and both of us work out of the home. We try hard to be engaged in our children's lives and be aware of everything they're doing. As working parents, it's not easy, but we try hard.

As our children have become teenagers, we've noticed them becoming increasingly more addicted to their phones. We've set all types of guard rails around screen time, acceptable apps and taking their phones into their bedrooms. They listened much better when they first received their phones. Lately, they've been exploiting every opportunity to abuse the rules.

My husband and I have tried to crack down, but we're just not able to constantly be alert. We know it's important to crack down, so I wanted to reach out and see if you have any advice. Thank you. — Confused About Cellphones

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Cellphones: First, I applaud you for your focus on this issue. Since you both work, it makes sense for your kids to have cellphones so you can communicate with them as needed. However, screen time can be a serious issue that impacts social development, communication skills, schoolwork and many other important areas. Other issues including cyberbullying can arise as well.

You and your husband should begin by staying firm on your rules for cellphone use. Also, there should be no cellphones in their bedrooms, particularly at night, or at the dining table. In fact, phones should be silenced or turned off during meals. Put parental controls and locks on apps when possible, and maintain the right to conduct random searches of their call log, email and apps. Have your children sign a contract that enforces escalating punishment, such as a 24-hour period without their phone for the first infraction, 48 hours for the second, 72 hours for the third, etc.

You may do all this in a positive way. Let them know that you are going to give them independence to use their phones but hold them accountable to using them in a mature and thoughtful way. Have a conversation about cyberbullying, phone etiquette and the dangers of posting or sending messages without understanding long-term implications. Encourage your children to communicate openly with you about any issues they may have or anything that is making them uncomfortable. Good luck!

Dear Annie: My only child, "Frank," died unexpectedly on July 14, 2019. He was 34 years old. I want to tell all parents who worry that they don't get to see their adult children often enough to appreciate each moment with their happy and healthy children. The pain of losing a child will never go away or ease. So, even though you may not see them as often as you want, treasure each moment. — Still Hurting

Dear Still Hurting: I can feel the — very understandable — pain in your letter and am so very sorry you lost your son. You highlight an important message: Be grateful for each day, and each day spent with a loved one. Life is a gift to be treasured.

Working from home is working

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Annie: I am in my mid-20s and fortunate enough to have a job that I've been able to do remotely since the outbreak of the pandemic back in March. Working from home has its drawbacks, but on the whole, I've come to really enjoy it.

For one, I used to drive an hour and 15 minutes each way for work. During the time I used to be sitting in traffic in the morning, I am able to wake up, make myself a nice breakfast, call my parents and even meditate. I log on for the day feeling ready to go. After work, I jog or walk two miles, and then make dinner, all before the time I used to get home.

And I've actually gotten to know my co-workers better during this pandemic than I did before, as we make more of an effort to catch up with one another and set up "happy hours" via Zoom, when we ever went out to happy hours together in real life.

I know that I am incredibly lucky to have a job at all right now, especially one where I'm able to work from the comfort and safety of my own home. (I want to acknowledge the fact that there are front-line workers who have had to risk their lives every day just to keep an income, and others who have been laid off for months now, with dwindling unemployment funds.) So, I don't mean to sound like I'm whining, but I really don't want to return to the office and that commute. Moving closer to the office is not an option, as I can't afford the rent in that part of town.

Am I the only one wishing I could keep working from home? And should I try talking to my boss, when the time comes for us to return to the office, to see if I might be able to continue working from home? I know that, in general, he's never loved the idea of remote work. — Working From Home Works

Dear Working From Home Works: You're right. You are lucky — and not just because you've held onto your job and health during this tumultuous year. You're lucky because you've been given a unique opportunity to evaluate what is important in your life, what helps you to feel healthy and grounded. Don't squander the lesson. When a return to the office seems imminent, talk to your boss. In the past, he didn't like the idea of remote work, but that was before the world turned upside-down. He might have gained some insights this year as well, about what's possible with remote employees. It won't hurt to ask; it will hurt not to.

If you get shot down, then decide how much of a priority it is to you to be able to work remotely, and plan your next career move accordingly.

year because of COVID-19," Box said, referring to the virus death toll. "Let's all make those hard choices to prevent that number from growing so that Hoosiers families can celebrate for years to come."

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention has also recommended against traveling for Thanksgiving and suggested Americans consider celebrating within their own households.

Nearly every resident of Jefferson County has either tested positive or knows someone who has tested positive for COVID-19, with local cases doubling, tripling, or worse depending on the day in November. A record 95 positive test results were reported last Wednesday, pushing the county past 1,000 total cases.

Monday's totals at about 1 p.m. indicated Jefferson County now has recorded 14 deaths and 1,142 positive cases since the spring.

At least 27 residents of Jefferson County have also been hospitalized due to the virus, according to the ISDH.

The county is still ranked in the orange zone on the agency's County Metrics map, along with all neighboring counties except Ripley, which was marked red for having a seven-day positivity rate of about 15%.

According to additional metrics, the majority of positive cases (17.4%) are among 20-29-year-olds, while 50-59-year-olds make up the second largest group (16.5%). Roughly 60% of the intensive care unit beds for District 9, which includes most of southeastern Indiana, are in-use by COVID patients with only 25.7% still available. That's 30% more than what District 9 recorded on Nov. 1, according to the ISDH.

The Falls Restaurant at Clifty Inn in Clifty Falls State Park will not host its traditional Thanksgiving meal — the restaurant now closed except for carry out service — kitchen manager Aleesha Bennett said on Monday. Instead, the restaurant will sell "take and heat" meals for it patrons for pick-up on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Local schools, meanwhile, are hoping the upcoming Thanksgiving break won't lead to a super-spreader event once students return to class. Just last week, Madison Consolidated Schools moved Anderson Elementary School students to virtual learning until at least Dec. 3 due to ongoing staff shortages and a significant number of students being classified as close contacts due to their parents testing positive for the virus, the district announced Thursday. The district posted a reminder on Facebook Monday urging students to "remain diligent" with the hashtag #dontcatchit.

Meanwhile in Kentucky, Gov. Andy Beshear said the state reported the highest number of cases in a single week on Sunday, surpassing the previous week's record by 3,766 cases. Kentucky now stands at 150,100 cases and 1,787 related deaths since the pandemic began.

Behsear on Sunday urged Kentuckians to keep Thanksgiving gatherings to eight people or fewer with a maximum of two different households, and wear a mask, wash hands and remain six feet apart.

"If we have a major surge of COVID-19 cases after Thanksgiving, our hospitals will simply not have the capacity to give everyone the care they need," Beshear said. "Nothing is worth that risk."

Trimble County rejoined all but three of Kentucky's 120 counties in the red over the weekend, after five news cases Thursday and six new cases Friday brought the county's active case total to 14 people. Trimble's total since March is now 152, with one COVID-related death, according to the North Central District Health Department.

Carroll County reported four new cases Friday, boosting the county past 300 cases since March. The positivity rate per 100,000 residents has also risen in the past week to 44.3 people, almost doubling the amount needed to stay in the Kentucky Department for Public Health's red or "critical" classification.
